

Discovering the value of Tivoli Storage Manager and Tivoli Storage Manager FastBack

Introduction

- Did you know storage management tends to be the single largest expense in an IT budget?
- Are you spending lots of time on backup and restore issues that could be better spent on another project?
- Are you making your backup windows? Are they getting longer?
- Are you losing tapes and finding remote sites are difficult to support?
- Did you know through automation IBM Tivoli Storage Manager Products can reduce the expenses related to tape drives, tape and media management?

Please attend this very enlightening three hour seminar that will answer these issues and help you effectively automate your backup and recovery processes. Tivoli Storage Manager provides a backup and recovery solution which is a centralized, comprehensive solution that employs smart data movement with a tiered storage infrastructure that makes backups and restores as fast, flexible and low-impact as possible. For remote site backup, IBM Tivoli Storage Manager FastBack brings leading block-level, incremental-forever Snapshot and continuous data replication technology to the Tivoli Storage Manager family. Tivoli Storage Manager FastBack is a disk-based solution designed to eliminate the need for "backup windows", improve the Recovery Point Objective (RPO) and Recovery Time Objective (RTO) of critical applications.

Tivoli Storage Manager FastBack provides near-instant recovery and immediate access to data after any type of data loss. It automates the backup and recovery of Windows servers and applications in remote offices or small environments, using disk storage, and it eliminates tapes and manual backup and recovery procedures. Tivoli Storage Manager Fastback also performs secure transfer of data between primary and disaster recovery sites which then can be backed up to Tivoli Storage Manager for long-term retention.
