Overview

IBM® Robotic Process Automation (RPA) with Automation Anywhere complements the other products within the IBM Digital Business Automation (DBA) portfolio. This offering is delivered by IBM in partnership with Automation Anywhere Inc. (AAI), which is ranked by Forrester Wave as a leader in RPA.

RPA with Automation Anywhere offering is an RPA solution that provides the capability of mimicking the behavior of a business user to perform common repetitive tasks, such as:

- Data extraction
- Data transfer
- Data computation
- Data input

It does these tasks by automating the interactions with a business application's user experience.

RPA with Automation Anywhere offering delivers a platform bundle that includes all the core components to create an RPA solution. This bundle includes:

- Bot Creator
- Control Room
- Bot Runner
- Additional DBA entitlements that will enable business and IT users to create, manage, and execute bots, respectively.

A new ordering option for RPA with Automation Anywhere now includes an Attended Bot to enable a bot script to be triggered by human intervention versus the control room scheduler. These bots act like a personal assistant to an end user. Attended bots are licensed and measured based on the machine of an Authorized User, which is a unique person that is given access to the program.

Improper access can result in information being altered, destroyed, or misappropriated or can result in misuse of your systems to attack others. Without a comprehensive approach to security, no IT system or product should be considered completely secure and no single product or security measure can be completely effective in preventing improper access. IBM systems and products are designed to be part of a regulatory compliant, comprehensive security approach, which will necessarily involve additional operational procedures, and may require other systems, products, or services to be most effective.
