Healthcare companies are increasingly coming to understand the value of Lean methodology. But they need guidance to develop and implement an effective plan for transformation and create a culture of continuous improvement.

At Simpler Consulting, a Truven Health Analytics company, we've developed a powerful, simple, systematic approach to Lean transformation, called the Simpler Business System® (SBS). SBS allows us to deliver the fastest and most enduring Lean transformations possible–and our clients from around the world can attest to that.

For nearly 20 years, we've been helping companies across all industries reduce waste, streamline processes and sustain game-changing performance improvements.

Join us and prepare now for your future in Lean

The co-op program at Simpler is a paid internship like no other. You'll work alongside our experienced Lean sensei to gain valuable training and real-life experience that will accelerate your journey toward a career in Lean.

You'll consult onsite at client facilities to help them adopt and implement Lean improvements into their daily operations. You'll gather, analyze and track data to support the Rapid Improvement Event (RIE) teams' pre- and post-event efforts. At the conclusion of your co-op, you'll present your work and reflections to Simpler's executive leadership team.
