Financing and IT lifecycle offerings for IBM Z®

The rate of digital transformation is challenging, requiring businesses of all sizes to transform. While a successful transformation requires a secure cloud platform to deliver insights, protect data and exceed service expectations, it also requires a financial strategy to help acquire, maintain and quickly adapt to future requirements.

Today's IT infrastructure must be designed to help businesses build insight and intelligence to enrich customer experiences, protect data from threats, drive innovation, and accelerate services delivery through the cloud, while enabling budget control and business financial metrics.

Fully customized financing for mainframe solutions

IBM Global Financing experts can work with you to design a fully customized IT financing and asset management strategy that helps achieve your project financial targets, covering consulting, services, software and hardware from IBM.

Lease or pay your IBM Z solution over time	Combine software, services and hardware into predictable payments over time with IBM Financing leases and loans.
Accelerate your IBM Z project's cash flow break even point	We work with you to customize a financing solution that will fit your needs. Get an integrated financing solution that spans an entire project's lifecycle and facilitates IT infrastructure including consulting and services.
Improve TCO and accelerate ROI	Lower your costs with Fair Market Value leases that help you improve total cost of ownership and accelerate return on investment.
Keep your mainframe technology current over time	Upgrade to next level technology with little or no change in payments per MIP.
