

10 signs you need a better process modeling solution

1

You brushed against the whiteboard and now your process diagram is on the back of your shirt

2

"That's the way we've always done it"

3

You consider new larger sticky notes to be process improvement

4

You have so much paper on the wall that your conference room is deemed a fire hazard

5

Sticky notes don't come with version numbers

6

When your flip chart collapses, so does your process modeling project

7

You dream in sticky note yellow

8

Your biggest bottleneck is the guy who just retired

9

Your idea of collaboration is sending multiple emails

10

You wonder if the person "accidentally" erasing the whiteboard is doing it on purpose
