

Ecosystem India

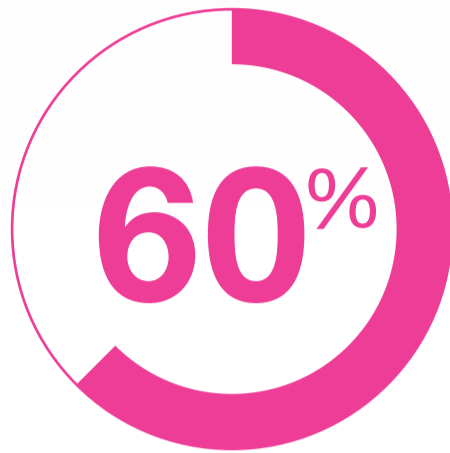

Making India essential to the global ecosystem economy of Indian executives expect ecosystems to replace traditional value chains with new value models of Indian executives expect to change primary organizational activities due to the emergence of ecosystems of Indian executives see a shift in consumer attitudes from products and services to experiences of Indian executives expect value creation to become largely ecosystem-centric

Indian cultural and economic factors supporting ecosystems

What can you do to thrive in the new age of ecosystems?