

“The flag bearer of enterprise blockchain with a significant number of live blockchain networks

Early mover advantage with significant in-production client base. IBM has nearly 70 “live” in-production blockchain clients, which we estimate represents over half of the overall market.

Full-stack blockchain capabilities. IBM is a founding member of Hyperledger, and it launched the IBM Blockchain Platform for business workloads; it offers hosting and support solutions through the IBM Cloud and makes blockchain real for clients with an engagement model across exploration, piloting, production, and integration.

Strong contributions to blockchain market development. As one of the 17 founding members of Hyperledger, IBM contributed to the initial codebases of Hyperledger Fabric and Hyperledger Composer.
