

CANDIDATES TALK, AMPLIFYING THE IMPACT OF CANDIDATE EXPERIENCE

Candidate experience extends beyond the recruiter/candidate relationship because candidates talk.

More than 60 percent of all candidates share their experiences with others, regardless of whether their experiences were positive or negative and regardless of whether the candidate received a job offer or not.

Insight: When candidates share their experiences with others, they are enhancing (or damaging) your reputation as an employer. This could have consequences for attracting future talent.
