

How can distributors keep order fulfilment processes running like clockwork?

KeHE Distributors

50%

Works with more than 3,000 stores across North America

Uses 325 trucks to serve nearly 50% of top-100 retailers with more than 45,000 items

Wanted to avoid the risk of delivery delays eating into its margins

Migrated key electronic data interchange (EDI) processes to an ultra-reliable value-added network (VAN)

Minimizes the risk of EDI downtime while cutting VAN costs

Meets tight delivery deadlines and safeguards margins