

Growing China

Regional contributions to economic success

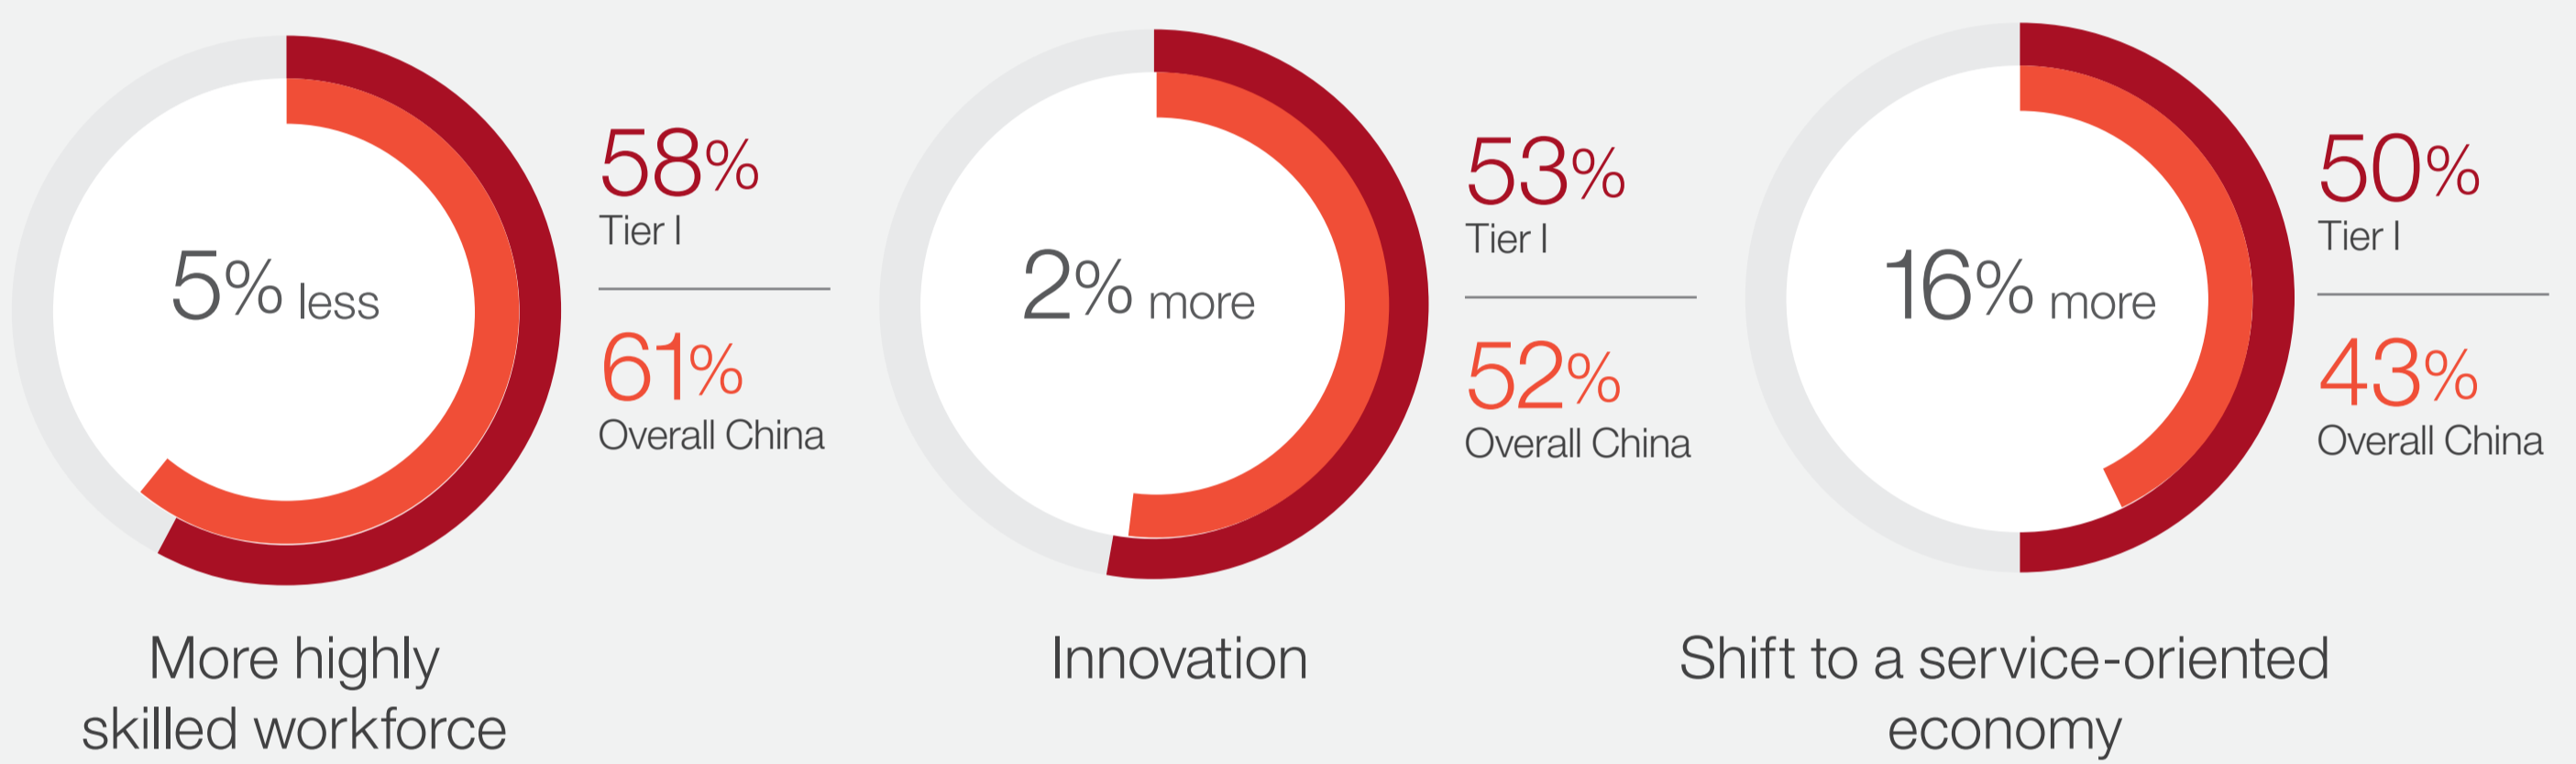

Executives from China say that six key initiatives will accelerate growth

But different regions in China have different priorities

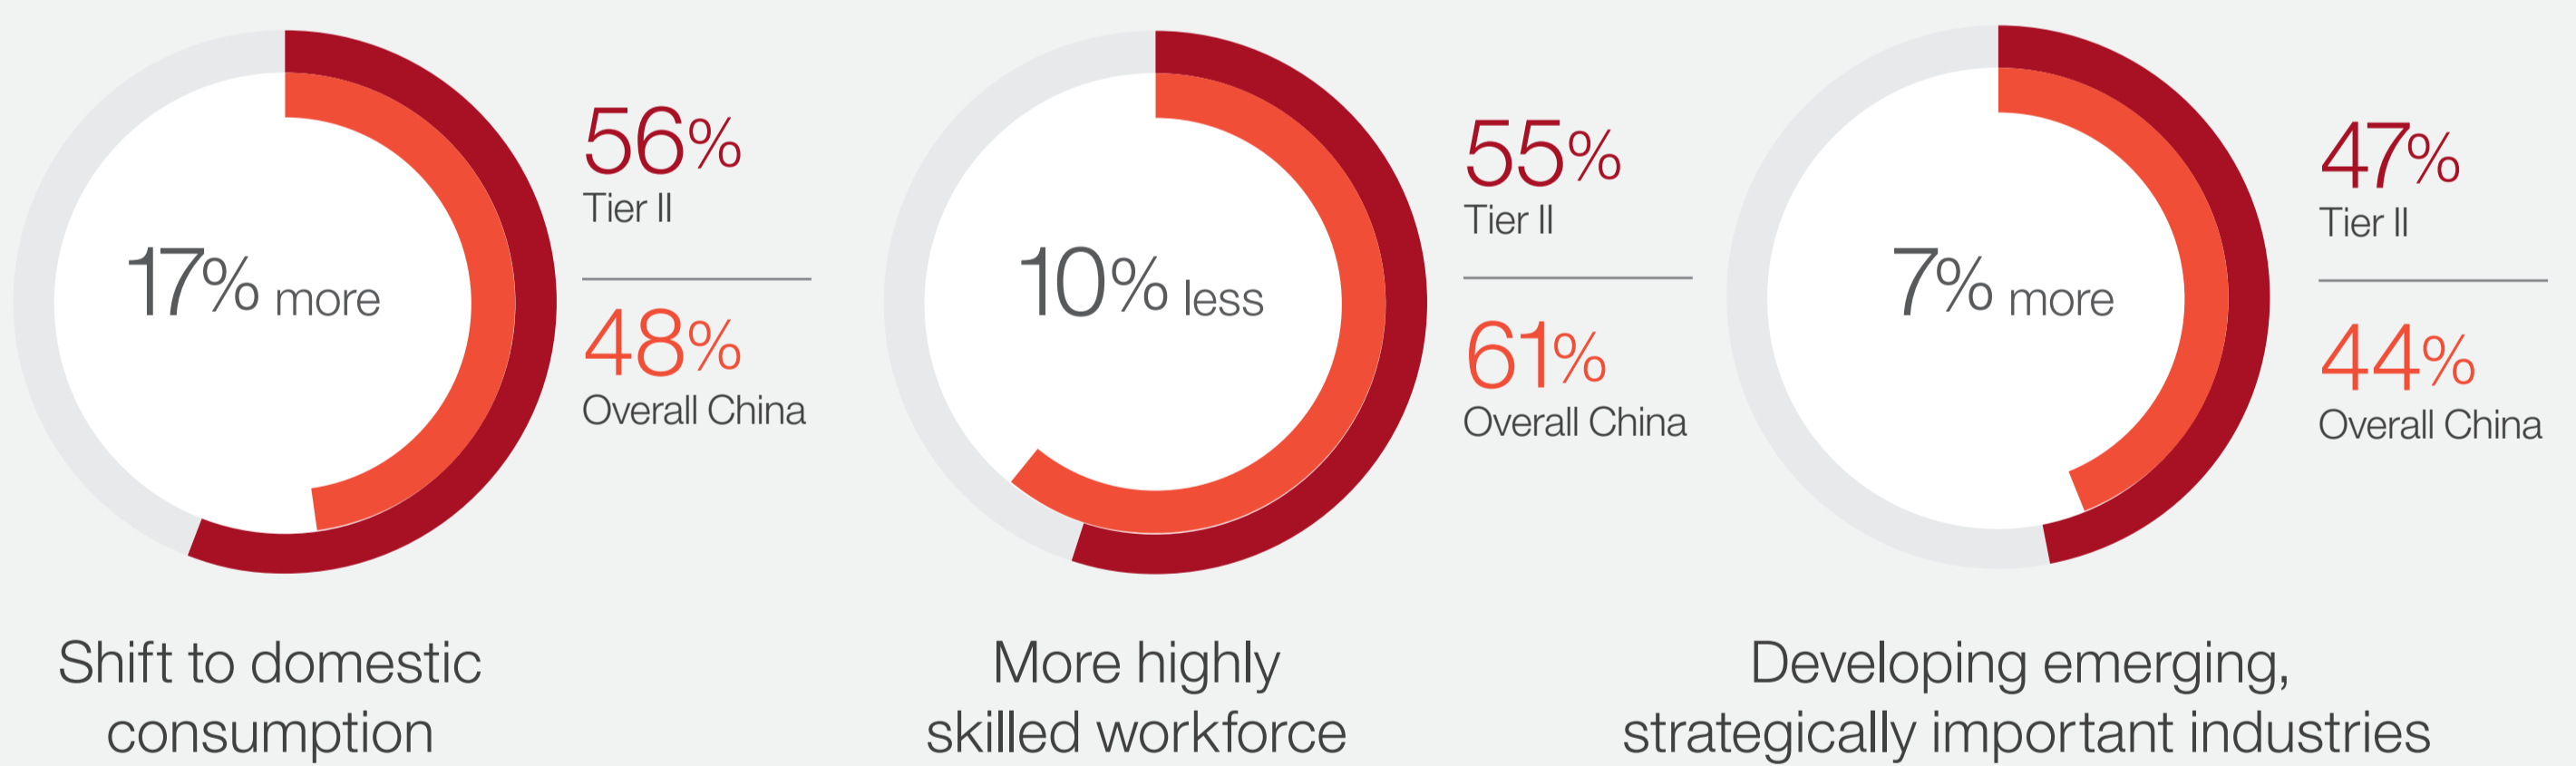

China's executives from tier 1 cities

say greater service orientation in the economy will accelerate growth

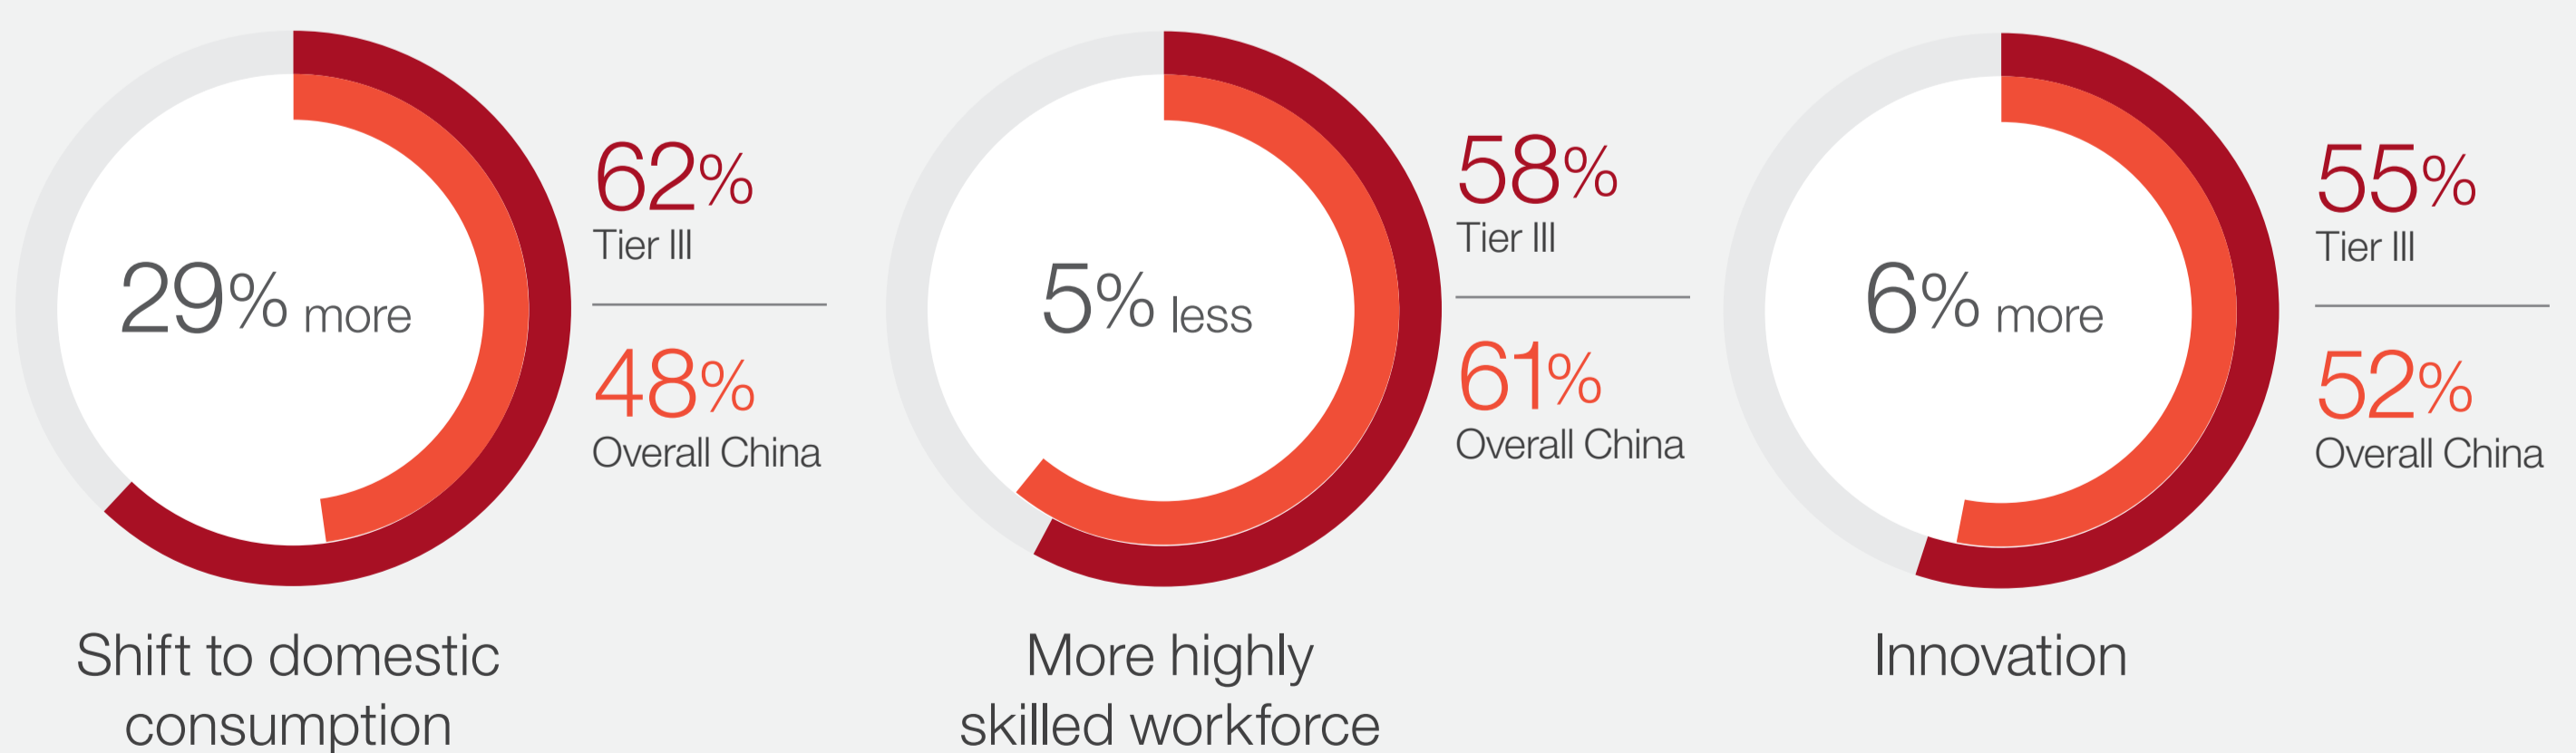

China's executives from tier 2 cities

say that shift to domestic consumption will accelerate growth

China's executives from tier 3 cities

say that improving workforce skills will accelerate growth

But all Chinese executives agree innovation, globalization and entrepreneurialism hold the key to China's ongoing success.
