

How can governments deliver smarter, more efficient public services?

Jakarta Smart City transforms the responsiveness of public services such as traffic and waste management by collecting and analyzing unstructured text and social media data with IBM Analytics.

40,000 emails, SMS messages and tweets automatically analyzed per month in 2016

Engages citizens by listening and responding to feedback fast

Empowers government agencies to make better policy decisions

