

Multiple Target Peer to Peer Remote Copy

Disaster recovery and business continuity are top concerns for most CIOs

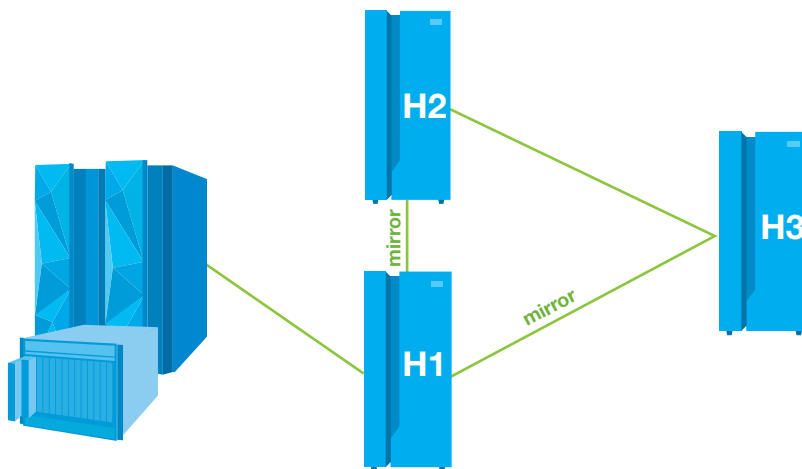

In firms with over 10,000 employees, the average cost of downtime is

$1.6 million per hour

The requirement for zero RPO increases with growth in number of employees

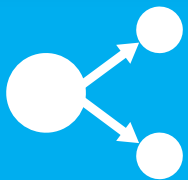

IBM announces world-class disaster recovery and high availability with the new IBM DS8880 Multiple Target Peer to Peer Remote Copy

3 synchronized data copies*
ideal for organizations that require additional data protection, such as large financial institutions.

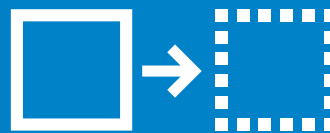

For more information visit ibm.com/DS8000

Two independent remote copy relations

99.9999% availability with HyperSwap

Zero disruption to DR after HyperSwap or storage migration

Minimal performance impact

Sources

IDC, High-Availability Angst in the 3rd Platform Era, 2015

* Supports any combination of Metro Mirror, Global Copy and Global Mirror with the one exception that a volume may not be in two Global Mirror sessions.

