

Reskilling China

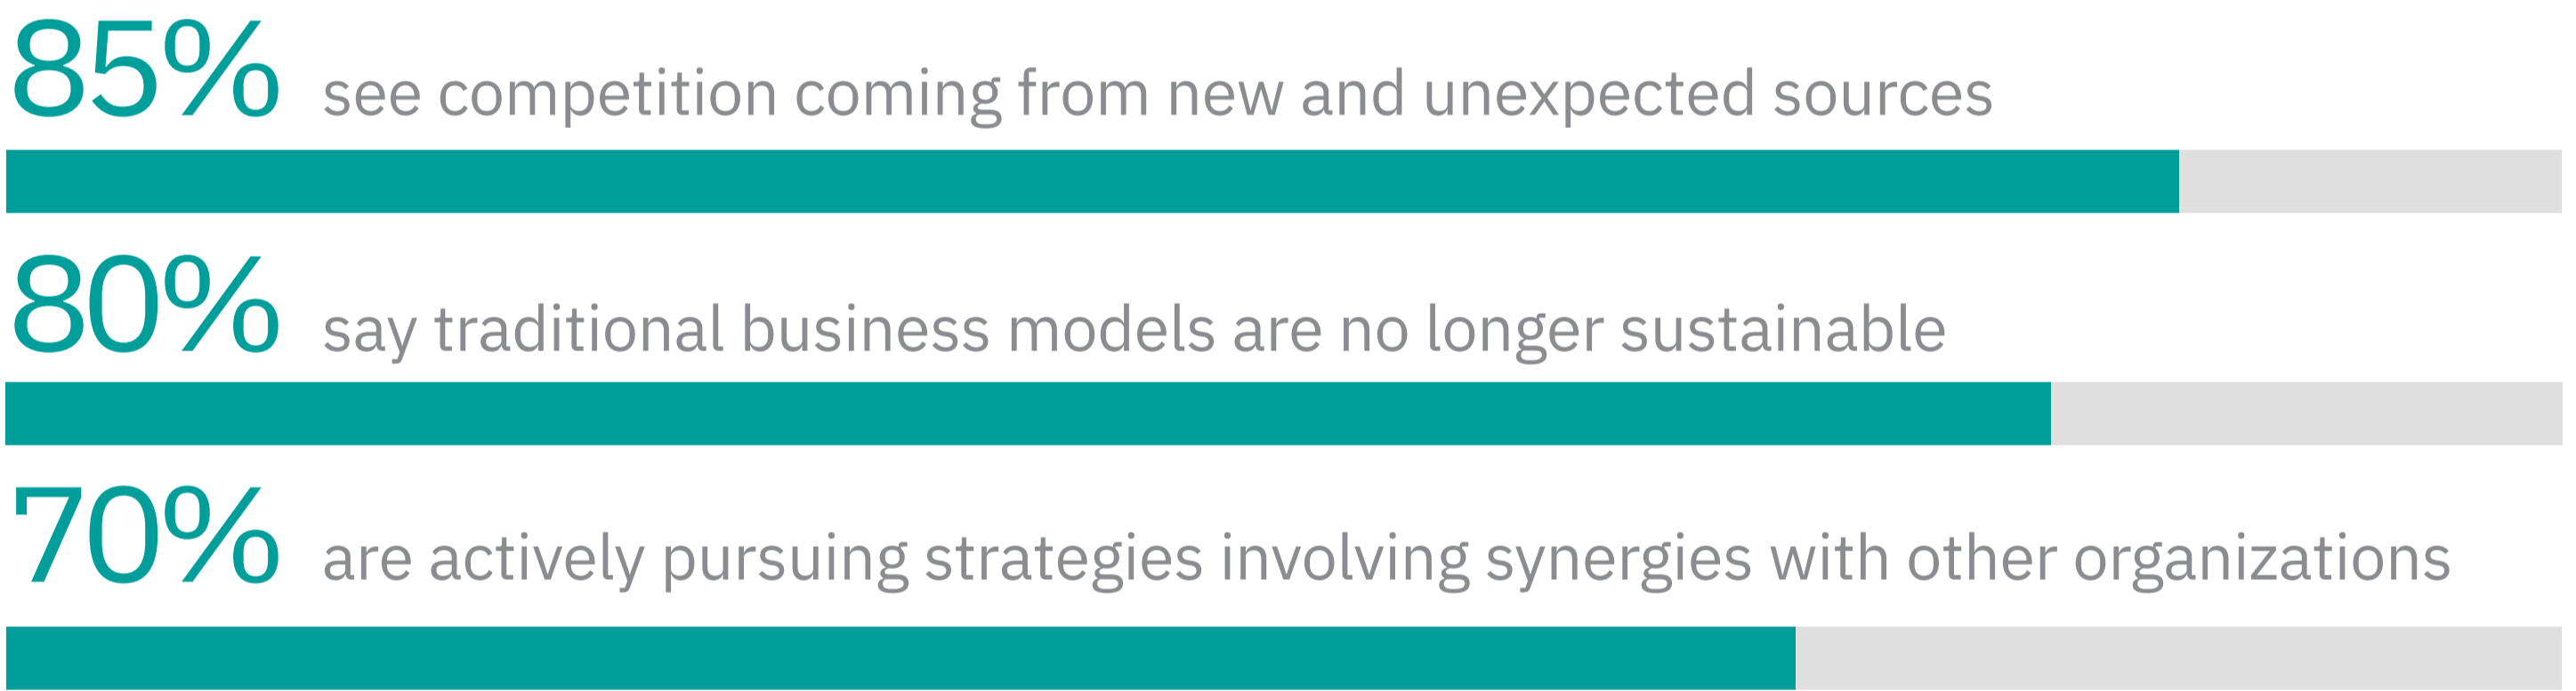

Three steps to navigate the global skills challenge

Workplace skills have become a key business differentiator

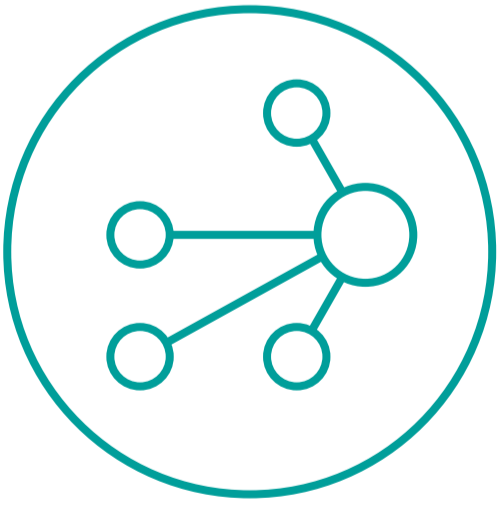

Traditional business models are eroding as industry norms are challenged

Of Chinese executives surveyed:

Chinese executives can accelerate growth by implementing three skills development strategies

- 1
Build
strong regional ecosystems
- 2
Create
innovative training solutions
- 3
Promote
individual skills development and advocate personal responsibility

To learn more, visit:
ibm.biz/chinaskills