IBM AIX 7.3 is now certified for Power systems running Oracle Database 19c!

On December 17, 2021, Oracle announced the availability of the Oracle Database Release 19c with AIX 7.3.

Customers who have been testing Oracle Database 19c may now proceed to production with confidence that Oracle will fully support their product running on this latest AIX release. Information on the certification is available on Oracle's website "My Oracle Support" <sup>(1)</sup> and in the MOS note IBM AIX 7.3 Availability and Configuration for Oracle Database (Doc ID 2828936.1)

Oracle certification of AIX 7.3 is on Power platforms that IBM documents as supported. This can be confirmed by using the following link to confirm the supported combinations of IBM AIX 7.3 and POWER Systems (64-bit): <https://www.ibm.com/support/pages/node/6020074>

The following table summarizes what is announced:

Operating System	Oracle Database and Real Application Clusters
AIX 7.3*	19c Release at 19.13.0.0.0 and later

Table 1: AIX 7.3 on IBM Power Systems running with Oracle Database 19c

*Technology Level 0 Service Pack 1 ("7300-00-01-2148") or later is required.
