Overview of Available Benefits – Retiree Supplementals

IBM benefits

Your health. Your wealth. Our partnership: The benefits of working at IBM

IBM offers a competitive benefits program, designed to help employees build a solid financial foundation for meeting a diverse array of needs — health care, income protection, and personal interests.

Retiree Supplemental employees are eligible for the following plans and programs which address health care and savings and are described briefly below: Medical, dental, and vision. Retiree Supplemental employees are also eligible for other benefits and services as outlined below. Please contact the IBM Benefits Center - Provided by Fidelity to obtain estimated annual cost for the medical options available in your ZIP code.

As a Retiree Supplemental, you and your dependents will not be eligible to continue participating in the IBM Benefits Plan for Retired Employees. Instead, you and your dependents will be eligible to participate in the plan that active IBM employees are eligible for. The designs of these two plans are similar, but the amount you pay for coverage will vary. When your employment as a Retiree Supplemental ends, you and your dependents will again be eligible to participate in the IBM Benefits Plan for Retired Employees.

You are eligible

...for these benefit programs, with the exception of the IBM Employees Stock Purchase Plan and health benefits, beginning with your first day of employment as a Retiree Supplemental. Health benefits are effective the first of the month following your date of hire.

Health care coverage (medical, dental and vision) is available for you, your spouse/partner (some health plans may not offer coverage for partners), and eligible children and other dependents (documentation supporting eligibility is required) at active rates. IBM provides a range of options, to allow employees to design a personalized program that meets their personal or family circumstances. In general, you are covered for pre-existing conditions under IBM's health plans.

Medical

Benefits options

IBM's medical options include the IBM Preferred Provider Organization (PPO), IBM PPO Plus, IBM PPO with Health Savings Account (HSA), IBM Enhanced PPO with Health Savings Account (HSA), the IBM Exclusive Provider Organization (EPO), and health maintenance organizations (HMOs), where available. Coverage under the IBM PPO/HSA plan is available at no cost for employee-only coverage. Employees who decline medical benefits receive a "no coverage" credit of $30 per month. IBM continues to invest in quality health programs, wellness and preventive care, which include providing you with a variety of resources to support your health and 100% coverage under most plans for routine check-ups and preventive services received in-network.
Comparing medical options

Depending on your location, as an IBM employee you may choose from among several medical options, including the IBM PPO (preferred provider organization), IBM PPO Plus, IBM PPO with HSA, IBM Enhanced PPO with HSA, IBM Exclusive Provider Organization (EPO), and a health maintenance organization (HMO), if available in your area.

The medical options comparison chart (see separate document) provides a high-level summary of the coverage and provisions available under each of the medical options IBM offers, including prescription drug coverage and mental health/substance abuse benefits. If you have a specific question about coverage for a particular procedure or condition, you may call the health plan directly, or contact the IBM Benefits Center – Provided by Fidelity at 866-937-0720, (TTY: 800-426-6537). Support specialists are available weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Eastern time on business days (excluding holidays recognized by the New York Stock Exchange except Good Friday). Please note the IBM PPO plan options cover in-network services only with a few exceptions. Out of network coverage is still provided for most mental health/substance use services. Contact Optum for more details.

When you enroll in your health benefits on NetBenefits, you'll see a personalized list of your medical options and costs, along with health plan detail sheets which provide additional information on each of the plans available to you.

Medicare-Eligible Retirees

If you are rehired after turning age 65 and were entitled to and/or receiving funding from a Health Reimbursement Account (HRA) through Via Benefits, your access to that account will cease for the duration of your active employment. Once you terminate, your eligibility will be restored to the HRA as long as you are enrolled in a medical and/or prescription drug plan through Via Benefits.

Transitional Medical Program (TMP)/COBRA

The Transitional Medical Program (TMP) provides for continuation of health care coverage to IBM employees and their dependents who lose coverage due to termination, divorce, death, leave of absence without benefits and certain other circumstances. This coverage is not subsidized by IBM. TMP satisfies the requirements of the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1987, also known as COBRA.

Travel Accident Insurance

If you die or are injured as a result of an accident while traveling on official company business, the IBM Travel Accident Insurance Plan will pay up to five times your annual salary to help loved ones cope financially. “Travel” is considered being away from your regular home or job location on company business, not commuting. IBM pays the entire cost of the program; you pay nothing for this coverage.

Please note that as IBM retirees, you remain eligible for the Employee Assistance Program, Lifeworks, Group Life Insurance (GLI), Matching Grants, Community Grants and the Thomas J. Watson Memorial Scholarship Program.
